PRESIDENT ORDERS 60 CHAS- ERS AND WARSHIPS SPEEDED

8-Hour Law Suspended in Naval Construction And Volunteer Crews for Boats Enrolled —Draws On Emergency Fund.

Washington, March 19.—Preparation for aggressive action by the navy against the German submarine menace began today at the direction of President Wilson.

The President authorized the expenditure of the $115,000,000 emergency fund, provided by Congress to speed up naval construction and pay for special additional war craft, and the suspension of the 8 hour labor law in plants engaged on navy work.

Immediately afterward Secretary Daniels ordered the New York navy yard to begin building sixty submarine chasers of the 110-foot type, to be completed in from sixty to eighty days.

BANQUET TO SOLDIERS

At Commercial Hotel Thursday Night Greatly Enjoyed By All.

The young ladies of Hartford tendered the members of Company H, who have just returned from the border, a banquet Thursday night at the Commercial Hotel. It was very much regretted that all the members of the Company could not be present.

Editor Allison Barnett, of the Republican, was toastmaster, and speeches were made by Ozna Shults, C. O. Hunter, Arthur Kirk, Estlin Barnett, Gilmore Keown, Otto Martin and McDowell Fogle.

From those who attended we learn that the eaters were the best ever, and the service unexcelled—the young ladies doing duty as waitresses.

In a message to the editor of The Herald, Mr. Frank L. Felix, who is at Lake Worth, Fla., in part, says:

"I have this day started a barrel of coconuts, by express, prepaid, and will thank you to have each party whose name is written on coconuts to call at office and get it. I have one for you and Mrs. Coombs and one each for the office boys. They are just as I picked them up from under the trees in the coconut jungle, which is on the opposite side of Lake Worth, about one mile opposite the hotel where we are stopping. I go across in boat and pick them from under trees. I send them because I want you and my friends to see them in the crude state.

TWO ARE CONVICTED ON FEDERAL INDICTMENT

Other Prominent Men Said To Have Confessed Buying Stamps at Discount.

Louisville, Ky., March 16.—Dan H. Russell, president of a Louisville distilling company, prominent lodge man and widely known in Kentucky, was placed under arrest here today on a federal indictment charging him with having received stolen property knowingly.

The arrest was made, post-office inspectors assert in connection with an alleged conspiracy to buy and sell stolen postage stamps. According to the inspectors, Louisville has been the headquarters of those said to have been connected with the conspiracy.

They estimate that within the last few years the government has lost $40,000 and that stamps obtained in an unlawful manner have been sent here for sale from points in Georgia, Louisiana and Texas.

Brongers Confess.

With the sentence today to one year and one day terms in the federal prison in Atlanta of Henry F. Bronger, old-time politician and saloon keeper, and his son, August M. Bronger, details of one of the most celebrated post-office robbery cases in the annals of the post-office department were revealed almost in their entirety.

Using the Brongers as witnesses for the government in return for the minimum sentence promised them for confessions, government officials secured names of yeggmen who have been blowing safes and robbing post-offices for ten years and evidence against business men of Louisville and New Albany to whom the Brongers, acting as the "fence" resold stolen stamps valued at $40,000.

EIGHT-HOUR LAW UPHOLD

By Supreme Court—Act Valid and Enforceable.

Dividing live to four the highest court in the land held the Adamson law constitutional and thus fixed a permanent eight-hour basis for wages on interstate railroads for which a nation-wide strike has twice been threatened.

The law which became effective January the first, this year, increases the wages of trainmen about 25 per cent, amounting to something like $50,000,000 per annum.

The opinion was delivered by Chief Justice White. Justices Day, Van Devanter, Pitner and McReynolds dissented.

The majority upheld the public right to have interstate commerce uninterrupted as a basis principle paramount to interests of the railroads or their operatives—both declared to be in the public service and subject to the supreme power of Congress to take any action necessary to maintain freedom and unimpedment of interstate commerce.

The congressional authority outlined by the court renews the probability of future paralysis of transportation.

"GO FORWARD."

Services at the Methodist church were well attended morning and evening. The pastor, Rev. B. W. Napier, delivered a forceful sermon at each from the theme, "Go Forward." His appeal for greater liberality in thinking, speaking and living was especially impressive. If we had more of this spirit in our churches we would have less infidelity and more converts to Christianity.

KENTUCKIAN'S BODY IS FOUND IN SEWER

Former Central City Chief Of Police Missing Months, Dead in Kansas City.

Central City, Ky., March 17.—Wedged in a sewer manhole, where it had been washed by a heavy rain, the body of J. D. Langley, former chief of police of Central City, who had been missing since January 8, has been found in Kansas City, Mo. Relatives in this city have been notified of his death.

Mr. Langley went to Kansas City last October to visit his sons, Roy and Guy. The morning of January 8 he left his sons' home to take a walk. Until his body was found, no trace of the man could be found. When discovered, the body was in such condition that identification was difficult, and the former police chief evidently had been dead for some weeks.

Mr. Langley resigned his position in Central City two years ago on account of ill health. His activities during the "possum hunter" disorders in this county are believed to have been responsible for a nervous breakdown. He was 60 years old.

Died As Result of Fall Sometime Ago—Buried at West Providence Monday.

Mr. Albert T. Williams, aged 78 years, died at his home across the river from Ceraulo, Sunday night. His death was the result of a fall sustained about 7 weeks ago—complications having set in.

Besides his wife, he leaves five children—all married.

Mr. Williams was a brother of Mr. Thomas Williams, who lived near Hartford and died a little more than a year ago.

He was a member of the West Providence Baptist church, and the funeral was preached there Monday afternoon by Rev. Birch Shields, and his remains buried in that burying ground.

SPLIT LOG DRAG.

A subscription is being circulated in Hartford to raise money to be used as prizes to road overseers and their hands in the Hartford Magisterial District who have their sections of the road in the best condition by May 1, 1917. CRUSE, HALL, JOHNSON, KAUFFMAN, HOORSE, WALL.

The bill of Representative Oliver, to provide for referendum of laws classifying property for taxation upon filing a petition signed by five per cent. of the voters with the secretary of State, within four months after the law is passed, was reported by the committee on revenue and taxation as soon as the House of representatives met.

The measure was given its first reading and placed in the calendar. The bill of Representative Hobbs to amend the statutes requires actions for recovery of property, sold for taxes, to be brought within five years.

ROMANOFF DYNASTY ENDS DUMA AT HELM OF STATE

Grand Duke Michael Surrenders Claims After Emperor Nicholas Gives Up Throne and Rule By People Declared.

Petrograd, March 16 (via London, March 17, 6:47 a. m.)—Unless improbable events occur, Russia has today become a republic. The outcome depends on how the manifesto of the new government is received by the 6,000,000 soldiers at the front.

Emperor Nicholas abdicated at midnight last night on behalf of himself and the heir apparent, Grand Duke Alexis, in favor of Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch.

At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon Grand Duke Michael himself abdicated, thus bringing the Romanoff dynasty to an end.

The Government, pending a meeting of the constitutional assembly, is vested in the Executive Committee of the Duma and the newly chosen Council of Ministers. A manifesto to this effect was issued by the Duma committee today, and it will be telegraphed to the general army headquarters this evening.

A Reuter's Petrograd dispatch says that prior to his abdication, the Russian Emperor transferred the supreme command of the Russian armies to the Grand Duke Nicholas.

Russia today appeared to be in a fair way toward solving the greatest problem with which, perhaps, any nation was ever confronted. Order is growing with incredible rapidity out of the chaos of the last week, and the new Government, gathering up the broken threads of national and municipal life, is striving to see the organization of the country in motion so that the conduct of the war will suffer as little as possible from the revolution.

SCHOOL ITEMS.

The Freshmen entertained the Sophomore class Friday evening, March 16, at the school auditorium. The building was tastefully decorated in the Freshmen colors—blue and gold, and potted plants and cut flowers banded on the stage. Music and games of various kinds made merriment for the boys and girls and a nice lunch of sandwiches and chocolate was served. Prof. and Mrs. Brown, Miss Duncan, Miss Glenn and Mr. Cecil Felix were chaperones. Over forty were present. The Sophomores had given an evening in honor of the "Freshies" in February and this was a return courtesy. These are fine wide-awake classes and a splendid school spirit prevails.

Commencement work is being planned. The Senior class number twenty this year. Miss Evelyn Fair Thomas is Valedictorian and Mr. Minton Leach Class Representative. The class roll is as follows: Misses Mary Dean, Mazie Clark, Lenore Collins, Ione Hedrick, Mary Austin Carson, Martha Rhodes, Corinne Shultz, Nella Alford, Beula Palmer, Dena Wesley, Clarice Ward, Myrl Wilson, Luin Sullenger, Evelyn Thomas, Messrs. Gayle Taylor, Berry Dudley Walker, Byron Williams, Archie Brown, Goebel Crowe, Hinton Leach.

The Junior class will give a play Wednesday evening during Commencement.

HERBERT SCHOOL CLOSED.

The school sang "Kentucky Schools" and an able address was also made by Prof. Forest Hawkins, principal of the Whitesville High School.

Master Taylor Skinner had the distinction of making the highest grade that was made out of 97 applicants in Ohio county, this year, his average being 92-6-10.

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR

People have arrived at the conclusion that Dodge Brothers give the manufacture of the car an unusual degree personal attention, and that the car is right even down to smallest detail.

The 35-horsepower motor, the electric lighting and starting system, the one-man top, the jiffy curtains, etc., are indications of unusual values.

Competent performance, unusual gasoline and tire mileage and marked freedom from repairs are characteristics of all Dodge Cars; they are the result strength added to lightness, and balance added to both.

The simple truth of how the car stands with the public is hard to put into words because it sounds like boasting. Needless to say it has demonstrated its goodness to the American public. For demonstration call or write us.

WEDS MAN SHE NEVER SAW TO AIN GAN ESTATE

Chicago Girl and Husband Separate After Ceremony in India.

Chicago.—According to a story told by Dr. Gilbert H. Willis, of Bombay, India, Miss Philippa Hartley, of New York, was married to John Colfax, a Chicagoan, whom she never before had met, in order to insure title to the estate of Carleton Hannan, of Bombay, who is said to be worth several million dollars. Dr. Willis said he induced Colfax to wed Miss Hartley and accepted a specified amount with the understanding that he would never again see his wife.

A marriage license issued to the couple gave the bride's age as 25 and the bridegroom's as 23. Dr. Willis said the marriage ceremony was performed by a minister whose name he refused to divulge. He also refused to give the address of the bridegroom.

Dr. Willis said that Hannan had requested that his niece, Miss Hartley, marry before his death or within three months thereafter, in order to satisfy a trust agreement, which he drew up in order to make sure that a bulk of his estate should go to Miss Hartley without danger of a legal contest by other relatives. A trust agreement in accordance with this arrangement was filed for record in Chicago today.

Mrs. Colfax returned to New York a few hours after Dr. Willis said the ceremony had been performed.

WOMAN WHO KILLED FATHER IS ACQUITTED

Lagrange, Ky.—Mrs. Goldie Washburn Rehl, who shot and killed her father last Saturday night, March 10, near Goshen, on the farm of John Bottorff, was acquitted at her examining trial before County Judge S. E. DeHaven Wednesday morning. Mrs. Rehl was on the stand for fifteen minutes and as she told her story she held her year-old baby in her arms. Several times she broke down and wept. She attempted to tell of alleged abuse and unnatural treatment she had received from her father since she was 13 years old, but was stopped by the court.

Witnesses testified that not only Mrs. Rehl but all the members of the family were endangered by the enraged man at the time of the killing. Although the fatal shot struck her father in the center of the breast, Mrs. Rehl testified it was the first time she had ever fired a gun.

30,000 SALOONS

Probably Will Be Closed in Great Britain During Next Few Months.

London.—Thirty thousand saloons in Great Britain will probably be closed during the next few months, according to the Mail. The measure is proposed as a solution of the difficulty arising from the compulsory restriction of the beer output and the brewers are stated to be in practical agreement with the Government in regard to the remedy. The closing of the saloons is said to have been suggested by some of the brewers themselves. They contended that there were too many distributors, and that a third of them could be suppressed without inconveniencing the public, while such a step would enable the liquor trade to be conducted more economically. The arrangements seems to be in brief a pooling agreement between the rival brewers who own the public houses. Two brewers have been conferring recently with the home office and the recommendations drafted at these conferences will be submitted to a general meeting of brewers.

MYSTERIOUS DISEASE

Causes Death Of Four and Baffles Physicians in Wisconsin Town.

Galesville, Wis.—Four persons have died here and scores are ill, some critically, from a disease the nature of which has baffled physicians from the Rochester, Minn., Foundation and the local health authorities.

City officials appealed to physicians in other cities for assistance in checking the spread of the malady. According to the statement of physicians who have had the disease under observation little difficulty is experienced in detecting the symptoms, swollen glands and high temperature, but add that the proper treatment has not been developed.

Dr. C. E. Rosenow, of the Rochester Foundation, is expected here today to assist in checking the spread of the disease. Schools have been closed during the last week.

Boys of Co. H

By Corinae Shultz.

In the early summer they left us,
The boys of whom we were proud.
But our hearts were sad at the parting.
And our heads in grief were bowed.
For we thought, should they return to us never,
Or if returning, some came
Back to their home in Kentucky,
All crippled and hattered and lame.
And told of the comrades they'd left there,
On the hot, parching Mexican sand,
Of the boys who died bravely and nobly,
For the sake of their own native land.
We pictured the trials they'd meet there,
We numbered them every one,
From the cunning, treacherous Mexican,
To the scorching Southern sun.
We told them "good bye" as they left us,
Each brother, cousin and friend,
And prayed that to each his best blessings,
Our Father in Heaven would send.
And for aew of "the Boys on the Border,"
We read every newspaper through,
Of the boys who so bravely had left us
To fight for the Red, White and Blue.
Who for the flag that we honor,
The flag that protects you and I,
These boys were willing to suffer,
And aye—if needs be—to die.
Through all the summer we watched them,
And the eyes of love pierced through
The distance that divided,
And we knew each was "true blue."
As the summer drew into autumn,
And the days fast shorter grew,
We thought they'd be home for Thanksgiving,
And we planned what we each would do
To help make glad their coming.
We schemed and figured and planned,
And then there came the message
Like a death knell through the land;
"The boys can't be home for Thanksgiving."
This is the word we received,
And the day was robbed of its gladness,
And many a household grieved,
Yes, sat and grieved and wondered
About the boy far away.
For whose home-coming they'd joyfully planned
On that Thanksgiving day.
"We'll look for them now on Christmas,"
Thus was our hope revived;
But this hope, like the other,
Did cruel fate o'er ride.
But now they are here among us;
Can this indeed be true?
Boys, you've no idea
How proud we are of you,
Proud? Yes, beyond the telling.
We know not what to say;
What to say or how to say it,
But we think it anyway.
We're so glad you're here among us,
Back here with your friends once more,
And we hope that with our neighbors
We'll live peacefully ever more.
But we know you well enough, boys,
Have that faith in Company H.
When we find it can't be done, boys,
We'll send you to keep them straight.
But we hope you're here among us,
To live out your three-score-ten,
And to war or its forbodings
You will ne'er be called again.
Here among your friends and kindred,
In the State of the "Blue Grass,"
In a land of "peace and plenty"
You will now your lifetime pass.
And, oh, boys of noble spirit!
We will try to prove to you,
That we thank you for your courage
And are very proud of you,
And we're sure that in the future
We will hear men everywhere,
Saying, as they talk together,
Boys, I tell you, I declare,
That of all the deeds of brave men
That history tells about
The boys of Company H, to my mind,
Have got them all "shined out."
Thus this will be the sentiment,
Will it not repay the cost?
Will it not, at least, in measure,
Help you to not count the cost?
For you can't be paid in money,
Were it stacked up mountains high,
And we can't begin to thank you,
But we make this feeble try.
And we want to have you know, boys,
That we're glad you're back once more,
Here again to see the sunlight
As it plays upon the floor
Of the "Old Kentucky Home," boys,
And we hope that it will, too,
Display to you the welcome,
That we ALL extend to you.

ART OF A WOMAN.

Really More Subtle Than the Art of a More Artist.

Technic is the very life and soul of engraving. To the engraver nothing is truer than Francois Millet's saying that "art is a calculation."

Take the calculation involved in the art of making a lady's dress, a thing of beauty, though but a fleeting joy, as all joys are. The value of contrasted textures is here well displayed. The modiste has a host of materials from which to choose; but, knowing the value of restraint, she is wisely sparing and judicious in their use.

Say it is a creamy white robe. The mellow glow of satin or silk upon a setting of soft merino or serge enhances by their opposition the qualities of each. A necklace of pearls in juxtaposition with cloudy tulle or delicate lace gleams with a distinguished radiance, while the shadows beneath the brows and nose, softened by the reflection from the light material, are much less pronounced than they otherwise would be, and the eyes, catching up the light, sparkle with a greater brilliancy. If there are any wrinkles in the face they disappear, or, if not, they are greatly modified, and the face assumes a fuller and more youthful aspect.

I have seen a narrow strip of black velvet ribbon encircling the neck of one whose face would, without this startling device, have shown deep lines, as in ladies of character and experience. But by this artful contrivance the wrinkles vanish. How is it possible to discover the wrinkles when this far deeper wrinkle holds the eye?

Millet counsels the artist to hide his art behind his canvas. So the engraver hides his behind his block. But the feminine arts are just fading out; no one knows where they are hidden.—Timothy Cole in Century.

CUSTARD PIE COMEDY.

Its Vogue in the Movies Due to Our Primitive Sense of Humor.

After the comic "pursuit" picture movie directors were at their wits' end until the most famous impresario of knockabout fun invented the motif of the custard pie. A custard pie bombardment has two very strong elements of humor concealed in its action. One is surprise, and the other is messiness. There are lots of nice people who think it is vulgar and outrageous to laugh at such elemental humor, yet there is something fundamentally funny in seeing a body's face projected through the soft goo of a custard pie.

If you do not believe this try it some day on your neighbor when he pushes his head over the fence to say good morning or to borrow the lawn mower. Hit him full on, butter side out, with a custard pie and see whether the result is not funny or tragic. A hair often divides the two. If you make this experiment you will learn that only a complete bullseye is funny. If the pie should hit on the edge or only partially break, the joke is held in suspense and spoiled, but if you "moon him" I assure you the neighbors for miles round will all laugh. My, the number of custard pies that we have wasted while one of the comedians perfected his technique and aim! A good custard pie thrower is invaluable in the comies. It is queer that the pie must be custard.

This same director also invented the comedy police, who have had more trouble with the real police than any actors on the screen. The humor of the wild exploits of these rollicking officers of the law is based upon two motifs. One is the collapse of dignity, and the other is a kid desire in the hearts of nearly all of us to see authority get it in the neck.—Rob Wagner in Saturday Evening Post.

Finding One's Ideal Weight.
Dr. Harvey G. Beck of the University of Maryland has told a simple way to calculate what one ought to weigh. First, he said, put down 110; then subtract 5 feet from one's height and multiply the number of inches that remain by 5½. Add this product to the original 110 and the sum is one's ideal weight.

And He Was Alive.

"Oh, John, he told me such a sad, pitiful tale about his poor wife who was a widow with six little children!"

WASHINGTON CITY FOUGHT BEN JOHNSON LAST NOVEMBER.

During the last campaign the Republicans persistently denied that the favored classes in Washington City were making an effort to defeat Ben Johnson for re-election to Congress. However, it has developed since the election that the ablest speaker sent into the Fourth Congressional District by the Republicans was sent from Washington City. It will be remembered that one William E. Andrews spoke in many places in our Congressional district prior to the November election, and that the burden of all his speeches was an attack upon Ben Johnson.

All of the advertisements—news, paper, handbill and introductions of the speaker—held him out to the public as being from Nebraska, while the fact is that he has resided in the City of Washington for twenty years.

The city directory of the City of Washington shows that he resided in that city as far back as 1896, at which time he resided at 635 Maryland avenue. He resided at that address during the years 1896 and 1897. In 1898 he lived at 132 A. street. In 1899 the directory shows him to be a resident of Washington but does not give his street address. From 1900 to 1906 he lived at 1223 Yale street. From 1907 to 1909 he lived at No. 1223 Fairmont street. From 1910 to the present time he has resided at 1225 Fairmont street.

During most of the time that he has resided in Washington he has managed to hold some sort of Government position. It seems that during part of that time he was a renter, but since 1903 he has owned real estate there, one piece of which he has occupied as a residence. During the years 1903, 1904 and 1905 his property in Washington was assessed at $5,826. During the years 1906, 1907 and 1908 it was assessed at $6,234. During the year 1909 it was assessed at $5,826. During the years 1910, 1911, and 1912 it was assessed at $15,234. During the years 1913, 1914, 1915, 1916 and 1917 it was assessed at $17,004.

From the above it will be seen that Mr. Andrews did not come from Nebraska into the Fourth Congressional District of Kentucky in order to help defeat Mr. Johnson, but that he actually came from the City of Washington. Just here it is worth remembering that the people in Kentucky are taxed in order to pay half of the taxes of those who own property in the City of Washington.

$1,500 PER DAY.

The Courier-Journal seems to be worried that the General Assembly is costing $1,500 per day. It said nothing about cost when it was working overtime to create a sentiment for a special session. The Herald called attention to this and estimated the cost to tax payers at $125,000. Did those who clamored for a special session presume that the members would meet, O K the Tax Commission bills and adjourn? Violent presumption. When did a Kentucky Legislative session close before it expired by constitutional limitation?

So far the House has found a plan to spend lots of money but not to raise any. The Oliver or "Oligarchal" bill provides for "pie" as well as Pullman service and dining car steaks. It's up to the Senate now.

"Not germane" said the proponents when referendum was suggested for the "Oil-over" bill. True, the amendment to the Constitution does not provide for a referendum in connection with any commission. Neither does it authorize a commission. It was not necessary. If it had proposed one with the powers and at the expense of the one attempted to be created by the House bill, the amendment would have been as overwhelmingly defeated as some of these pro-commission and anti-referendum legislators will be if they offer for re-election.

From the fashion setters comes the decree that the spring skirts are to be at least two inches longer. However, to avoid the necessity for more material a reduction in width is demanded. This is reasonable, but the thing that bothers us is: what part of the young man's trousers can be reduced when the legs are made long enough to reach his shoe tops?

While most all the Republican members voted for the "Oil-over" bill, we are glad to note that upon the final vote our representative

In many other recipes the number of eggs may be reduced one-half or more by using an additional quantity of ROYAL Baking Powder, about a teaspoon, in place of each egg omitted.

EGGLESS, MILKLESS, BUTTERLESS CAKE

1 cup brown sugar
1 1/2 cups water
1 cup seeded raisins
2 ounces citron
3/4 cup shortening
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon cinnamon
5 teaspoon salt

voted "nay." Lave heard from home. We trust Senator Leach will express the sentiment of his constituency by casting his vote the same way. If not, it's "Good bye, 'Nervy.'"

The Tax Reform article contributed by "A Layman" and published last week aroused quite an interest. We are glad to see our people waking up on this proposition. There's something doing in Frankfort. Let the legislators know what you think about it.

Over at Lexington the other day Denny B. Goode choked Alan P. Gilmour. In return, Gilmour pulled the nose of the former in an effort to make Denny B. Goode. Whether he did or not, we are not prepared to say.

BLANKENSHIP FOR CLERK

This week we call attention to the announcement of W. C. Blankenship, the popular County Clerk, for re-election subject to the will of the Republican party to be expressed in the August primary. "Claude" has been faithful and impartial in the performance of his official duties and in serving his first term has made a record to which his friends point with pride. Should he receive the customary endorsement for a second term by being nominated, the party will have a strong candidate in the final contest, and if elected he will continue to perform the duties with the utmost care and efficiency.

"SIR, WHAT MUST I DO TO BE SAVED?"

One of the most able and convincing discourses we have listened to for some time, was that of the Rev. S. E. Harlan, at the Christian church, Sunday night on the above subject.

Rev. Harlan emphasized the point that it is not what "can I do to be saved," but "what must I do to be saved," and then went on quoting the scriptures as to just what one would have to do in order to have the assurance that his sins be forgiven, preaching what we would term the old Jerusalem Gospel from beginning to end.

Those who missed the sermon of Rev. Harlan Sunday night, according to our opinion, missed a treat.

Rev. Harlan will preach at the Christian church again next Sunday, both morning and evening.

NEWS OF LARUE.

Hodgenville Herald.

L. K. Reynolds, a prominent Barren county business man, is coming to Hodgenville where he will establish a brick manufacturing plant with a capacity of 20 to 30 thousand bricks per day.

Advertisements for bids for construction of the two remaining sections to be completed on the Hodgenville and Elizabethtown inter-county seat road, will be placed immediately, and work will begin as soon as possible. It is expected, however, that the county will undertake its own work on the road.

A large crowd of oil operators have been in the county more than a week looking over territory leased for oil development. Such information as they have obtained is being held, and it is not known whether they consider the land in LaRue county a "find." Some operations to test out certain territory may be made soon.

The wheat crop of LaRue county in 1917 will not be a very large one, as the severe weather during the winter damaged the growing crop very much. Hard and long freezes without the protecting snow did the greater part of the damage, but other causes have contributed. Some farmers report sections of wheat fields a total loss. Winter oats also suffered with the wheat.

OVER IN MUEHLENBERG.

Central City Argus.

Ben Doss shot and killed Ed Whitehouse, at Cleaton, last Tuesday afternoon. Two shots were fired by Doss, one ball entering Whitehouse's breast a little to the right of the left nipple and the other striking him in the mouth. Whitehouse died almost instantly, while Doss turned away and going to a telephone notified Sheriff Wickliffe of what he had done, and asked that officer to come after him.

Mr. Mat Lee Wickliffe and Miss Susie Lorine Martin, both popular young people of Greenville, will be united in marriage on Saturday, March 17th. The ceremony will be performed in the parlors of the Seelbach Hotel, in Louisville, after which the young couple will leave for a bridal tour through the East.

Mr. D. J. Gish, of Gishton, has advertised his personal property for sale, and will move to Jenks, Okla., to make his home. His son, Hershel Gish, who went to Jenks about three years ago, is engaged in the grocery and restaurant business and is quite a successful business man.

Mr. Edgar Fowler was in the hospital, in Detroit, Mich., last Wednesday, having his tonsils removed. The attending physician said that they were the largest tonsils he had ever removed. The operation was a success in every way, and Mr. Fowler expects to return to work Monday.

Mr. Mose Payne, an employe in the shops of the Midland Coal Company, was caught in a line belt at that place last Friday morning, and so badly mangled that death followed.

John Schaefer died last Saturday night at the County Poor Farm, from complications incident to old age. He was 76 years of age, and the remains were buried at the farm Sunday afternoon beside his wife who died several months ago.

Mr. Clyde Draper, of Knightsburg, and Miss Julia Dobbs, of Paradise, were married on the 8th in Greenville, at the Old Inn. Rev. J. M. Cook performed the ceremony.

Mr. Edward P. Sanford died at the home of his son D. B. Sanford, near Sharon, Wednesday night of last week, of Bright's disease, after a lingering illness.

OVER IN McLEAN.

Calhoun Star.

Attorney Joe H. Miller is confined to his room suffering from an abscess in his head.

R. D. Logdon will move his family from this place to Owensboro this week. He has a position with the Cumberland Telephone Co.

Mrs. D. H. Kincheloe and little girl came from Washington, D. C., this week and will spend several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. P. Stetler, at Livermore.

The condition of Mrs. S. B. Robertson, who underwent a successful operation for gall stones, at the hospital in Owensboro Saturday, is improving, and she will soon be able to return to her home near Calhoun.

A. L. Moseley went to Evansville Monday where he spent the first of the week in attendance at the trial of Wm. Sutton, formerly of Rumsey, who is being tried for the killing of Fred Haggard, at Evansville, last November.

Mr. J. D. Pruitt and Mrs. Margaret Glenn, both of Owensboro, were married last Thursday evening. Both parties have friends and relatives in Calhoun who wish them a happy life.

John Dunn, aged 82, a highly respected citizen of Wrightsburg, died Sunday night of senility. Interment was at Mt. Zion cemetery Monday afternoon. Mrs. George Cline, wife of the president of the McLean County Bank of Beech Grove, is his daughter. His wife survives him, also one son, John Dunn, of this place.

"WHISTLING JACK" CAGED BY CHIEF CASEBIEB

Sunday afternoon Jack Hines (or Collins) better known as "Whistling

Jack," displayed what looked like a combination of bad "licker" and bad "pigger" by pulling off drunken and threatening stunts which were displeasing and uncomfortable to the inhabitants of Hayti.

Chief Casebier put a stop to the riot by placing Jack in jail after relieving him of a large knife. The prisoner was afterwards taken before the Police Court and fined $2.50 and costs.

The colored folks say Jack is some "pizen" when he's "loaded."

CHAMPION DAIRY COW.

Segis Fayne Johanna, Which Produced Fifty Pounds of Butter in a Week.
Segis Fayne Johanna, a Holstein cow owned by Oliver Cabana, Jr., one of Buffalo's foremost business men, today is world's champion, having produced in an official test the equivalent of over fifty pounds of butter in one week. The test was conducted under the supervision of the New York State Agricultural college of Ithaca, and the cow's performance has been formally chronicled in the official records of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Up to this time no other cow of any breed has been able to attain the fifty pound mark. Johanna's record for the seven consecutive days is equal to 50.68 pounds of butter, and she produced in the same time 733.8 pounds of milk. The average butter fat percentage was 5.547. The previous high record was made by a cow owned by

SEGIS FAYNE JOHANNA.

M. J. Smiley of Belle Fourche, S. D., and falls 3.91 pounds below the mark set by the new champion.

The seven day test began Dec. 28 at Pine Grove Farms, Mr. Cabana's country place at Elma Center, N. Y. On the strength of the showing made it was decided to continue the official test in the hope also of securing the thirty day record. At the end of two weeks the following figures were recorded:

Butter, fourteen days, 95.415 pounds; milk, fourteen days, 1,458.1 pounds; percent fat, fourteen days, 5.235 percent.

Segis Fayne Johanna is of the Ideal type of the big patterned black and white species, some of her pronounced characteristics being her deep barrel, square udder, well placed teats, remarkable development of the mammary veins and her vigorous and rugged disposition. She was allowed to go dry three months before freshening Dec. 22 last and at this time had run her weight up to 1,900 pounds. Her normal weight is 1,450 pounds.

MINERALS IN MILK.

Great Value of Leguminous Roughages in Feeding Cows.

Dairy cows ordinarily cannot digest from rations of the usual character sufficient mineral matter to meet the demands made by heavy milk production, says the Kansas Farmer. This conclusion has been reached by nutrition experts at the Ohio experiment station after two years' investigations with cows yielding large quantities of milk.

These specialists also say that even when the common practical rations are supplemented with large amounts of calcium carbonate and bone flour the cows still give off or use in milk production more lime than they can digest from their rations. To meet this demand for heavy milk production the cows must draw upon the mineral substance of their skeletons.

Further attempt is being made by the use of more readily soluble lime salts to learn whether a cow can absorb as much lime as she gives off during heavy milk production.

The results obtained thus far emphasize the value of leguminous roughages in milk production. Without liberal allowance of such feeds the loss of minerals from the bones becomes excessive and predisposes to disorders of nutrition.

Save the Alfalfa Leaves.

"Two-thirds of the feeding value of the alfalfa plant is the leaves," says a writer in the Farm and Fireside. "If the leaves are lost in curing only one-third of the feeding value remains. This makes it important that alfalfa hay be cured so as to save the leaves. This means that the alfalfa must be raked into windrows before the leaves dry or they will fall off. The alfalfa should be raked into windrows no higher or two after being cut. This not only saves the leaves, but also keeps the alfalfa green, and more of the flavor is retained."

Keep Ram Apart from Flock.

It is usually best to separate the ram from the pregnant ewes during the winter. If he is allowed to remain he will greatly annoy them. He will also fret more and become run down in condition. A mixture of oats and bran as a roughage will keep the ram in splendid shape throughout the winter. It may be well to feed him sparingly on corn silage of good quality, if available.

Hints About Cold Frames.

The soil in the cold frame should be of a good garden soil, fairly light. Many growers transfer the flats with the plants in them from the hotbed to the cold frame, thus doing away with securing soil for the cold frame. Watering should be done frequently to keep the plants growing. Ventilation must be looked after carefully.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

Test all seeds now. It does not pay to plant untested seed. Watch the bulk roots in storage for decay or drying. Now is the time to plan the vegetable garden. Corn for a home garden may be started indoors in paper pots. When frosts are over plant the pot and all outdoors.

Don't plant more than enough apples to supply home use unless they can be well taken care of. They are not a profitable crop on the average farm unless some attention is given them.

A few lilacs, hydrangeas, spiraeas, honeysuckles or Japanese roses add much to the attractiveness of the home grounds.

More than a score of farmers in Minnesota are breeding corn on scientific principles. The results in the grains are as noticeable as the results in scientific breeding of live stock.

FEEDING BROOD SOWS.

Care Should Be Taken Not to Have Them Fat at Farrowing Time.

The feed allowed brood sows just prior to farrowing is of vital importance. Sows should not be overfat at farrowing time. If too fat they will be feverish and constipated and may farrow all the pigs dead.

A suitable grain ration recommended by the Pennsylvania state college school of agriculture and experiment station for sows prior to farrowing is one consisting of corn, 400 parts; middlings, 300 parts; tankage, 100 parts, and bran, 50 parts. Oilmeal may be substituted for tankage and the amount increased to 150 parts in the mixture.

A week or ten days prior to farrowing the sow should be removed to a farrowing pen, which should be dry, comfortable and roomy. Farrowing pens in a centralized hoghouse eight feet square, with lots opening outside, make the best quarters.

The day before farrowing the sow should receive only a light feed of bran, fed wet. For the first thirty-six hours after farrowing the sow should be fed very lightly. Heavy feeding at this time will produce heavy milk flow, which in turn is apt to cause scouring in pigs.

At the expiration of the thirty-six hour period the sow may be started gradually on a ration of cornmeal, seven parts; tankage, one part, and sweet skim milk in the proportion of one pound of grain mixture to one pound of milk. If sweet skim milk is not available a grain mixture of cornmeal, 400 parts; wheat middlings, 300 parts; tankage, 100 parts, and of oatmeal, 50 parts, may be used.

Care of Old Orchards.

The principal ill of old orchards is that the trees have to support too many useless limbs. These limbs are drones. They tax the parent branch and take nourishment that would otherwise be used in the bringing forth of fruit. Chief among these useless branches are the suckers and water sprouts that spring out from the base in great numbers. Nothing good can possibly accrue from such growths. They should be removed. Curled, twisted and broken limbs mar the general appearance of the trees, draw on the parent member and are a fit refuge for injurious insects. These should likewise be cut, piled and burned. Other dead limbs that still remain intact awaiting the next heavy wind to break them off should be accorded the same treatment. In general leave nothing on the trees save what is essential—lowa Home-Steid.

Silage For Steer Fattening.

Silage has cheapened the fattening ration for steers in Iowa. In a feeding test one lot where the daily ration per steer was seventeen pounds of shelled corn, twenty-nine pounds of silage, two pounds of oilmeal and one and one-half pounds of alfalfa made gains at a cost of $9.57 a hundred pounds, while another lot receiving eight and one-half pounds of corn, fifty-one pounds of silage, two pounds of oilmeal and one and one-half pounds of alfalfa made gains at a cost of $7.67 a hundred. In the first lot the steers averaged 2.94 pounds gain per day, while in the second lot they averaged 3.01 pounds. Reducing the corn and increasing the silage increased the gains and cut down the cost of making the gains.

Hog Worm Remedy.

A good remedy for preventing worms in hogs is three pounds gaulther salt, three pounds common salt, four pounds charcoal, one pound sulphur, three pounds copperas and three pounds sodium bicarbonate. Mix and keep in a self feeder or trough in a dry place where the hogs can have access to it at all times. Hogs that are practically free from worms are much harder than hogs that are badly infested with worms. Being harder, they are more resistant to other diseases common to the hog. So hogs should be kept free from worms if they are to be most profitable.

Bordeaux Mixture Stains.

Bordeaux mixture used in spraying will sometimes stain fruit. It has been found that dipping the fruit or vegetables stained in a simple solution of pure acetic acid, in the proportion of half a cupful to two gallons of water, removes the stains. Running water is then used to wash off the acetates thus formed.

Hartford proof is what you want and the statement of this highly respected resident will banish all doubt:

R. H. Gillespie, blacksmith, Union St., Hartford, says: "As my trade caused me to do quite a bit of hard work and bending over, I suffered severely from backache. Sometimes it seemed as if my back were pierced with a knife, the pain was so sharp and severe. The action of my kidneys was too frequent and the kidney secretions were scalding and highly colored. How to "Wither" Warts.

A formula has been recently put forward by a medical authority which, he claims, practically "withers" warts while you wait. Mix sulphur sublimed, five drams; concentrated acetic acid, two and a half drams; glycerin, two ounces. Apply the paste to the warts on small pieces of linen or spread with a brush at night. Wash off the next morning. Repeat till the warts drop off.—London Answers.

Germans Cover Their Retreat
With a Strong Screen
Of Rear Guards.

London.—The official report from British headquarters in France reads:

"North of the Ancre Valley our line advanced on a front of over one and a half miles southwest and west of Bapaume. We also made further progress on a front of over two thousand yards south of Achiet-le-Petit and occupied a thousand yards of a hostile trench southwest of Es-sarts, northeast of Gommecourt.

"An enemy raiding party northeast of Arras failed to reach our lines. A party of our troops raided enemy trenches east of Armentieres.

"We carried our effective bombardments against enemy positions north of the Somme and east of Arras, where two explosions were caused by our fire. There has been considerable artillery activity east of Armentieres and in the Ypres sector."

More Open Warfare.

A Reuter dispatch from British headquarters in France says:

"The British advance, which was resumed on a front of nearly four miles directly west of Bapaume resulted in developing a further stage of that open warfare which the British troops so welcome after the wearisome monotony of trench life. The Germans covered their retreat with a strong screen of rear guards, and although the British patrols came into contact with these at many places, their object apparently was to avoid action as far as possible. This confirms the idea that the Germans are doing their utmost to husband their strength for the future."

MISSPELLED APPEAL GETS NEGRO PARDON

Frankfort, Ky.—Without a friend to intercede for him and on the strength of his own misspelled appeal, John Walton, a negro Federal prisoner in the London jail, secured a pardon, signed by President Woodrow Wilson.

When Walton was handed the pardon, he was so overcome that he fell on the concrete floor of the jail and was knocked senseless. When he recovered consciousness his first words were: "That jes proves hit don't pay to see the little fellows. Go to the big ones first." He added that Abraham Lincoln and Woodrow Wilson are the only real friends the negroes ever had.

Walton lived in Bell county and was convicted at the November term of the Federal Court of perjury. He was sentenced to one year in a Federal prison, which was reduced by Judge A. M. J. Cochran to one year in jail.

Walton wrote a letter to President Wilson and said in it he was spending his last cent to have it typewritten and to purchase a stamp. His spelling and punctuation were copied into the typewritten letter. No indorsements of his request or other petition accompanied his letter, and the sincerity of his appeal seems to have carried its own conviction to the heart of the Chief Executive.

Bell System Had Heaviest Gains In Traffic In History During 1916; Total Revenues, $264,000,000 For Year.

The annual report of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company for the year ending December 31, 1916, shows that during that year the Bell system had the heaviest gain in traffic ever reported in a single year. The increase in subscribers' stations exceeded the estimated increase by 45 per cent. The heavy burden of business on the Bell System was so great during the year that plans are under way to spend $90,000,000 this year, against $66,000,000 last year, for constructions and additions.

The total operating revenue of the entire Bell System for the year, the report shows, was $264,000,000, which is an increase of $30,151,000, or nearly 13 per cent, over last year. Of these revenues, depreciation and maintenance consumed $84,556,000, an increase of 11.6 per cent, over 1916; traffic expenses consumed $53,790,000, an increase of 17.4 per cent; commercial expenses, $25,699,000, an increase of 9 per cent; general miscellaneous expenses, $11,902,000, an increase of 7.7 per cent. The report also gives results of the American Telephone and Telegraphs Company separated from the rest of the Bell System. Its net earnings for the year were $44,743,376, an increase of $3,625,889.
